I Believe the suit against Microsoft should be dropped. Sun Microsystems was a big factor in this suit only because they were unable to keep pace with Microsoft. It is unfortunate that a suit must be filed in order for other companies to succeed. During my working years I was a lone woman amongst many men - well I had to work many times harder to prove that I was capable of handling the job. It is also true of companies trying to produce similar products. Let s get on with life in the US and get this suit taken care of. Life must go on not stagnate. Thank you for taking time to read my view.
